Dear Brother —

I am determined not to miſs any opertunity of writeing to you, let the concequence be what it may, whether my letters are worth the reading or not, or whether you answer them or not, but upon my word I can't promise you how long this temper I am now in will last, if you dont send me one letter for three. I rec'd a letter from you dated the 23th April in it you complain in ernest of being neglected, which is not the case I can aſsure you (now you must know I read over all your letters I have rec'd this half year past for want of later ones) the next opertunity we had after I had rec'd the said letter Father said dont you intend to write to your Brother Polly: I believe not Sir, Why not,

Yes go & write to him, he complains of you, remember I tell you to, How many letters are you behindhand of him now? not less than half a dozen I suppose, I have but one Sir unanswered which I beleive has full ten lines in it & no more ———— Mr. Alden writes home that you was actually gone to be examined when he wrote, if you are examined pray let us know it as soon as you can, if you have undertaken that great work you will need the Divine Grace in an espetial manner to guide & conduct you, I pray the All wise Deity to preserve & strenghen you to do his work to his own glory and your own everlasting Salvation, that when you give up your Account to the judge of all the earth you may be seated at his right hand, is the earnest prayr of her who is your Affectionate & Loveing Sister.

Polly Robinson.

P.S. Your Brothers & sisters love to you,

P. Robinſon
